

At BC Women's Hospital, all members of our health-care team are trained and ready to provide culturally appropriate and respectful care. We will honour your requests whenever possible, however, we cannot guarantee that you will have a female health-care provider or a woman-only health-care team. This is because we cannot know in advance who will be working on the day your labour starts or when you arrive at the hospital to give birth.

If you have concerns about your birth plan, please speak with your health-care provider.

Our commitment to care

Your well-being is at the heart of everything we do. We strive for respectful, compassionate, culturally appropriate, and competent care that is responsive to the needs, values, beliefs and preferences of our patients and their family members.

We are proud to have a diverse and highly skilled team of health-care professionals dedicated to providing the best possible care to all patients.

All BC Women's health-care providers commit to PHSA values. Read more about our PHSA values.
